MARINE COURT.

Question of Copartnership.

Before Judge Alker.

2. McDonald.—This was an selion to re to detendant, and also for $6 additional, the of putting the heater up. The defence was a dealed. It came out is the course of the evident the defendant purchased the heater from Mr. and Mr. Van Nolt, who were claimed to have cojunteership existing between them; but the I came on the stand and deposed that Cellins and old had been neverly in his employment as asset, and that he had paid them weekly salaries, and that he had paid them weekly salaries, and the heater circumstances, gave judgment plaintiff.

The readers of the Hanna will res ney, opposed the motion to discharge the defendants, contending for the validity of the act, and desiring to have the question pro and on argued in the United States Circuit Court, and not await the decision of the Supreme Court on a question of such importance to the taxpayers of the city in the double aspect morally as well as financially. Mr. Courtney was at the time opposed by eminest counsel, who demurred to the undetensent, taking the position that the act imposing a special tax on the sale of lottery tickets was unconstitutional and void. The government, through the United States District Attorney, took issue by Joining in the desearcer, and Mr. Courtney asslowing pressed that counsel should be heard on both sides. Judge Nelson, however, declined to have the question opened, staking that he was so antished that the law was unconstitutional that his minal world not be changed on the point by any acquiment. Judge Nelson on that occasion sustained the deseurcer abcordispiy, and directed that all indictances in the United States Circuit Court of tim district in all the class of came should be discontinued, the parties undle carest Shadarged on their own recognizances, said that the United States Circuit Court of tim district in the test of the state of the district should issue as varients for the arrest of the district should issue as varients for the arrest of the district should issue as varients for the arrest of the district should issue as warrants for the arrest of the district Atterney again brought the matter up on a motion to have the master argued the against on the Supreme Court of the United States. And Schedunger of the judges, as which motion only the question inverved as regard the parties indicate in this city could so directly to the Supreme Court for law long his parties factored in the city could so directly to the Supreme Court of the United States.—In he recome have of 1996 Smalley concented to accriticate of division, and the following sections were exhausted to the supreme Court of th simply capital wasted, except in so far as it euriches a few. We might say that fully ten million dollars a year are lost to the various branches of enterprise of which our increasing population demands the development, by the infatuation which draws capital to the stock ex-change, to the great detriment of material improve-ments that would create enduring wealth for the entire community. Let us take for example the various addi-tions which might be made to the value of preparty and secording to the opinion of ominent geologists, can be made the most fertile arable lands in the country, with a soil as rich as gano, capable of supplying in abundance, and at little cost, those vegetable products which now command so high a price because the domand is greater than the supply. Competent engineers have taken this matter late consideration, and produced it entirely practicable. If I do not mistake, the Hraandhas already suggested the reclamation of these marsh lands as a sanitary benefit, as well as a source of revenue, both of which reasons are sound, because, in the first place, the swamps that outlie the city are fruitful of poisonous missms, that affects the public health; and next, because they contribute nothing to the taxes that help its pay the expensing of the city government. If these swamps were reclaimed, the evil in one case would be removed, and the good would be secured in the other case. It is a curious fact that the old Knickerbocker Inhabitants cultivated all the dry, arabic land in this vicinity three-quarters of a century ago, and while, since that time, the succeeding population have occupied lange quantities of it for building purposes, park, do, we have not added a single acre for purposes of cultivation, although millions of acres of reclaimed lands lie wants at ser doors. It is to be looped, therefore, that some men of capital, will take this matter in hand, and vigorously carry it out.
